

NEW ZEALAND VETERAN GOLFERS ASSOCIATION

PRESIDENTS BANNER

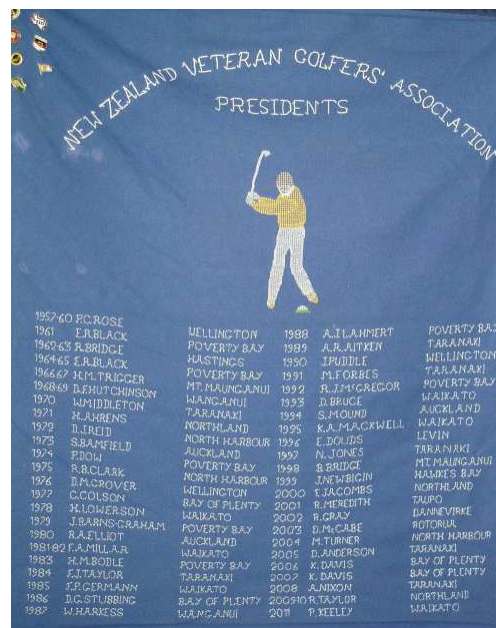

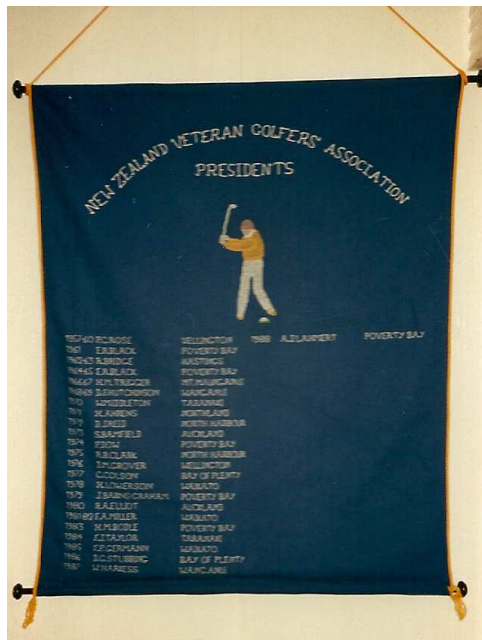

As the Association has no place for a Presidents honour board, my mother, Margaret McGregor, decided to embroider one as a banner which could be hung where ever the AGM was held. She worked on it for several months and got it completed in time for the International Tournament held at the Poverty Bay course in 1988 when Jack Lahmert was then President.

Margaret and her husband, Rodney, who was to become President in 1992, regularly played the Vets circuit. Both have passed away but for the banner still being continued is a great recognition of the work that Margaret put into it.
